ABOUT THE BOOK

This is the first publication in the Wits University Press Democratic Marxism Series, which seeks to elaborate the social theory and politics of contemporary Marxist thought. (Series Editor: Vishwas Satgar).

Marxisms in the 21st Century challenges vanguardist Marxism deployed in South Africa and beyond. Featuring leading thinkers from the Left, the book offers provocative ideas on interpreting our current world and serves as an excellent introduction to new ways of thinking about Marxism to students and scholars in the field. Many anti-capitalist traditions and themes – including democracy, globalisation, feminism, critique and ecology inform and shape the contributions in this volume.

ABOUT THE EDITORS

Michelle Williams is an Associate Professor in Sociology at the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg. Her books include The Roots of Participatory Democracy: Democratic Communists in South Africa and Kerala, India; South Africa and India: Shaping the Global South (co-edited with Isabel Hofmeyr, published by Wits University Press) and Labour in the Global South: Challenges and Alternatives for Workers (co-edited with Sarah Mosoetsa).

Vishwas Satgar is a Senior Lecturer in International Relations at the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg. He was the Executive Director of the Cooperative and Policy Alternative Centre (COPAC) for 12 years. He has played a pioneering role in developing the solidarity economy movement in South Africa.

Wits University Press is also the publisher of Kally Forrest's history of NUMSA, Metal that will not bend: The National Union of Metalworkers of South Africa, 1980-1995 (ISBN 978 1 86814 534 8 (print), R270.00).

"Metal that will not bend covers the neglected area of arguably the most important union in Cosatu. Forrest uses a large body of sources and personal testimony, and her unrivalled access presents important new understandings and flashes of insight. The union's accomplishments were massive, and the book gives a full sense of this."
—Philip Bonner, University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg

"Metal that will not bend shows that labour history is (still) central to the history of South Africa."

—Ackson M Kanduza in African Historical Review
